

Vision Statement

To allow professional women who practice in the environmental area an opportunity to meet in a non-competitive atmosphere, exchange information, and nurture relationships which enhance job performance.

Membership Description

Membership is voluntary and open to interested people in Wisconsin who work in industry, government, nonprofit organizations, law firms, or consulting companies and are actively involved in environmental practice areas.

Meetings

Meetings are held on a quarterly basis during an extended noon hour or late in the afternoon. Meeting locations vary within the Milwaukee area and details are distributed via e-mail. Meetings consist of a short business portion and an informational/technical portion presenting topics that address the interest of the group and reflect the objectives in the Vision Statement.

Organization and Meeting Costs

Annual membership dues for 2011 are $35.00. The dues offset various speaker and administrative costs. Checks should be made payable to Wisconsin Women Environmental Professionals or WWEP.

The meeting announcement will include the luncheon costs as well as location and speaker information.

Involvement

To learn more about WWEP contact any of the officers. If you would like to help plan a meeting, the Program Committee welcomes your topic and speaker suggestions. Also, let us know if your company has meeting facilities to host an event.
